Corporate

Whether you're starting a new project, selling or acquiring a business or seeking to expand or strengthen an existing enterprise, Cuddy & Feder's Corporate lawyers possess the experience, knowledge and dedication to help you achieve your desired results.

At Cuddy & Feder, our Corporate lawyers work with all types of business structures, from unincorporated entities to international and publicly traded corporations, and spare no effort towards fully understanding your business and your short- and long-term goals. Through our hands-on approach, we serve as your strategic advisors to not only assist in the implementation of your business plan, but to quickly and efficiently address issues that arise from market changes or unforeseen complications.

Our Corporate Law attorneys routinely counsel clients regarding entity formation and governance, even acting as outside general counsel for many of our clients. We partner with you to develop sound corporate foundations, as well as nuanced procedures and protocols that will lead to a successful venture. In addition, we handle a broad range of corporate and business transactions, including licensing and software agreements, executive compensation agreements, trademark applications and general contract negotiations.

As a multi-disciplinary law firm, we distinguish ourselves in our ability to leverage the collective expertise of our colleagues throughout our various practice groups – Litigation, Land Use, Zoning & Development, Trusts & Estates and Environmental Departments – to provide our corporate clients superior service and a comprehensive array of integrated legal services.
