Energy + Environmental
Land Use, Zoning + Development
Telecommunications

Alec is an associate in the firm's Land Use, Zoning & Development, Energy & Environmental and Telecommunications groups. His practice includes all aspects of municipal law, real estate development, planning and zoning, as well as wireless telecommunications siting and related matters.

Alec regularly represents residential and commercial developers, solar and clean energy companies, farm operations and small businesses before municipal permitting agencies. His background in municipal representation provides him with a unique insight into the land use entitlement process. Clients consult with Alec on various aspects of development and seek his advice regarding New York's State Environmental Quality Review Act (SEQRA), Agriculture and Markets Law, and numerous other federal, state and local laws regulating development. He regularly appears before Planning Boards, Legislative Boards, Zoning Boards and other permitting boards and agencies.

Prior to joining Cuddy & Feder, Alec was an Associate Attorney at an Orange County, NY, law firm that specialized in the representation of municipal boards. Alec provided counsel for several municipalities on matters regarding SEQRA, General Municipal Law, Town Law, Village Law, Highway Law, and the Telecommunications Act. Alec's experience representing both the public and private sides of the land use process provides him with unique experience and insight that allows him to provide superior legal service.

While in law school, Alec was an intern with the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC), Office of General Counsel. Alec also interned with the New York State Office of the Governor and the Albany County Supreme Court, Hon. Kimberly A. O'Connor. Alec further served as a law clerk for the Office of Chief Counsel at the Federal Transit Administration and was a law associate for the Minority Counsel's Office at the New York State Assembly.
